The poster features a central image of a family (a man, a woman, and a child) smiling and hugging. Surrounding this image are numerous logos of participating organizations and sponsors, including HPA, haarfrü, HANSEN, BONING, and others. The text at the bottom provides the date, time, and location of the event, along with the logos for Radium and Dorint.

The photograph shows a booth with a green tablecloth. A young man in a white t-shirt with the 'BONING' logo is seated at the table. On the table are various items: a large anatomical model of the human torso showing internal organs, several informational brochures, and fresh fruits like an orange and a melon. Behind the man are four vertical panels with the following titles: 'Ernährung', 'Stressbewältigung', 'Entspannung', and 'Raucherentwöhnung'. To the right, a larger panel titled 'Gesundheit' contains a list of health-related phrases such as 'Wie oft die Seele...', 'Jemandem die Stirn...', 'Etwas nicht mehr sehen...', 'Die Nase voll haben', 'Die Luft klappt weg', 'Hinterzerrt', 'Vorbereiten sein', 'Rückgrat zeigen', 'Die Güter fließt über', 'Sich gelb und grün lagern', and 'Unter die Haut gehen'. The background also features images of people giving thumbs up.
